A falling off in the demand for shipment to Burmah is the main cause of this decrease.

Timber ... ... 366 tons.

The traffic in timber has lately fallen off very considerably, and I can only attribute it to the completion of the Dacca State and other railways, for which we were in 1885 carrying timber in large quantities.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c.. are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h, and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 56, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical averages or means of the reading during the same period for the past ten
The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as a percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional stations for the period in question during the past station in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

* Mean for 6 days.

CALCUTTA, the 1st March 1887.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 25TH OF FEBRUARY 1887.

THERE is little to note in the meteorology of the past week. The barometer, which was more than a tenth of an inch above the average at the commencement of the week, fell steadily during the week, and was from ·15″ to ·27″ lower at the end than at the beginning of the week. This accompanied, and was probably mainly due to, a very rapid increase of temperature. The increase in the maximum day temperature varied from 4° to 8°, and in the minimum night temperature from 3° to 6°. Winds became unsteady and variable in the coast districts, and on the 24th southerly winds set in at the coast stations, which have continued to blow steadily up to the present date, and have extended over a large portion of Bengal. The air, which was before that date unusually dry over the whole of Bengal (more especially in South Bengal) became much damper, and the southerly winds have since brought up a considerable amount of cloud into Bengal and given damp foggy weather. The change, which has occurred during the week, is similar to, but more intense and rapid than, the transition from the cool weather of January to the hot weather of March and April, which is the chief feature of the weather of the last fortnight in February over South and Central Bengal

It remains to be seen whether the steady fall of the barometer during the week is due to actions in the hill districts of North Bengal, which will result in rain over that area and in Assam or not. If the former, it will probably be followed by a short period of cooler weather.

The barometer fell steadily during the week, with the exception of a slight local rise in North Bengal and Behar on the 24th. The fall during the week was least at Chittagong, where it was ·15″. It exceeded ·2″ over the whole province except East Bengal, and was greatest in North Behar, where it was ·27″. At Darjeeling it was ·21″, so that the change was nearly as great at the altitude of Darjeeling (7,500 feet) as in the plains of Bengal. The mean pressure of the week was in defect by amounts varying from ·01″ at Hazaribagh to ·05″ at Calcutta and Gya.

The chief feature in the week was the rapid increase of temperature. The mean maximum temperature was above the average at all stations except Purneah. The excess was greatest at Darjeeling (5·1° and Dacca (2·1°). The night temperature was below the average, except in Chutia Nagpur and Darjeeling. The defect was large in the coast districts only. This was mainly due to the cause mentioned in last week's report, viz. the delay in the establishment of the sea winds in the coast districts. The night temperature increased rapidly on the 23rd and 24th, and at the end of the week was practically identical with the normal.

The following table gives temperature data for eight representive stations for the past week:—

	Normal mean maximum temperature for the week ending 25th February 1887.	Actual mean maximum temperature for the week ending 25th February 1887.	Variation of actual from normal. The air was much drier than usual over the whole of Bengal, and more especially in the coast districts, at the commencement of the week. This continued until the 23rd or 24th, when the humidity began to increase rapidly, and at the end of the week the air was slightly damper than usual in all parts of the province except Chutia Nagpur. No rain fell during the week.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 25th of February 1887:—

Meteorological Reporter to the Govt. of India.

MEMORANDUM.

THE returns from the principal Municipalities in Bengal (excepting Suburbs of Calcutta, from which no return has been received up to date) for the week ending 12th February 1887, present the following particulars :—

1. That births and deaths were registered in these Municipalities at the rates, respectively, of 20·2 and 20·6 per 1,000 of population, as opposed to 21·7 and 19·2 per 1,000 in the preceding week ending 5th February, indicating a retrogression in the registration of births, with an improvement in that of deaths.

2. That these events were returned in the highest proportions from the following Municipalities :—

Births.	Ratio per mille.	Deaths.	Ratio per mille.
Hughli	33·6	Purneah	48·5
Durbhanga ...	31·5	Comillah	46·2
Bhagulpore ...	30·8	Serampore	37·3
		Naraingunge	33·1
		Gya	32·8
		Beauleah	31·5
		Puri	31·5

3. That the rates at which the several death-causes proved fatal, in comparison with the rates of the preceding week, were—

	Ratio per mille during the weeks ending—
	12th February 1887.	5th February 1887.
Cholera	1·0	·8
Small-pox	...	...
Fever	9·2	7·0
Bowel-complaints	3·5	3·1
Injury	·3	·5
Other causes	6·5	7·8

The chief points indicated by the above figures are that there was a noticeable increase of mortality from fever, and a sensible decrease in that from the maladies grouped under the head of "Other causes."

4. That while cholera proved notably fatal only in the Howrah Municipality, viz. at the rate of 4·6 per 1,000 of population, and small-pox furnished no death, fever and "Other causes" caused the highest mortality in the following Municipalities :—

Fever.	Ratio per mille.	Other causes.	Ratio per mille.
Purneah	41·5	Comillah	19·2
Beauleah	26·3	Mozufferpore	17·0
Comillah	23·1	Puri	12·6
Serampore	21·6	Dacca	12·3
Burdwan	21·4	Gya	10·9

5. That the death-rates under the heads of Sex, Class and Age stood as follows :—

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans above alluded to, cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorized form of age classification.

GENERAL REMARKS AND EXPLANATIONS.

The result of the month's working shews a fair increase in 12 out of the 24 heads under which the whole traffic of the line is classified. The increase actually stands at 2,800·10 tons over and above the weight lifted during the corresponding period last year, the net result shewing an increase of 13·86 per cent. It must, however, be borne in mind that traffic was hampered in October 1885 by 2 untoward circumstances, viz., the breaks on the Eastern Bengal State Railway, resulting in the suspension of through traffic for six days, and the abandonment of the Sara-Damukdia route for the long lead vid Kushtea.

INCREASES.

Coal ... ... 1,411·42 tons

This result is due to a larger quantity of locomotive coal having been carried during the month under review than in the corresponding period last year.

Cotton piece-goods ... ... 290·26 tons.

Increased despatches due to greater demand in the local markets.

Ginger ... ... 154·12 tons.

Due to a good crop and fair demand for exports.

Gunny-bags ... ... 326·05 tons.

A large quantity of hand-made gunny was despatched from Domar, Haldibari and Siliguri during the month under notice.

Grain and pulses ... ... 15·64 tons.

The transactions under this head represent an increase of 4·39 per cent. compared with the corresponding period of 1885.

Hides ... ... 32 48 tons.

A large business under this head was done at fairly good prices during the closing week of the month.

Jute ... ... 2,029·72 tons.

A fair amount of business was transacted chiefly in superior marks at firm prices during the middle of the month; in the opening and closing weeks, however, there was not much doing in the Calcutta market.

Liquor ... ... 2·50 tons

The increase is not worth noticing.

Railway material ... ... 113·26 tons.

This represents despatches of engineering material and stores locally from stations to stations for repairs of the permanent-way.

Rice, husked ... ... 542·01 tons.

The market for this commodity has been fairly active during the month.

Tea .. .. 4·01 tons.

The increase is small and needs no explanation.

Timber ... ... 3·19 tons.

The increase is expected in the face of a falling off in August and September last.

DECREASES.

Cotton ... ... 2·16 tons

The transaction under this head has been small and represents a decrease of 16·53 per cent.

Intoxicating drugs ... ... 7·90 tons.

The decrease appears to be a trade fluctuation and will probably be made up later on.

Miscellaneous ... ... 102·42 tons.

The increased despatches in September will account for the present decrease.

Metals ... ... 228·67 tons.

The paucity of garden materials for the tea districts appear to be the cause of this falling off.

Oil ... ... 15·04 tons.

There have been increased despatches under this head during the past three months, and the present decrease is a more trade fluctuation.

Paddy ... ... 1,260·69 tons.

The demand in the flooded districts, consequent upon the failure of the crop in these parts, gave an unprecedented impetus to this traffic last year.

Salt ... ... 401·58 tons.

There was an unusual increase under this head in October 1885, due to the check given to despatches in September 1885 on account of the breaks on the Eastern Bengal State Railway, and a fair comparison between the two periods cannot therefore be made.

Seed ... ... 28·11 tons.

The Calcutta market for all descriptions of seeds has been dull.

Sugar ... ... ·15 tons.

The decrease is trifling.

Twist ... ... 4·36 tons.

The demand for this article fell off during the month.

Tobacco ... ... 73·48 tons.

The season is drawing to a close and despatches have been affected.

Increases.

Betelnuts ... ... 143 tons.

Heavy despatches in this staple have again been made from the Bengal Central Flotilla stations during the month. The total weight lifted stands at 322 tons, against 179 tons for the corresponding month of last year.

Coal ... ... 481 tons.

Despatches for the Tagore steamers and for the use of the line account for this increase.

Jute ... ... 126 tons.

The gross weight lifted in this staple since the jute season commenced (August 1886) stands at 3,155 tons, against 776 tons for the same period last year. This comparatively large increase is undoubtedly to the tapping of the Madaripore and Magurah districts.

Rice ... ... 126 tons.

The traffic is in this article is due to movement for local consumption.

Seeds ... ... 200 tons.

This increase is in mustard and rape seed, and is due to a demand at the port for shipment.

Decreases.

Railway materials ... ... 262 tons.

During the corresponding period of last year, considerable quantities of materials were being despatched to repair the break in the line caused by the flood. This accounts for the falling off during the month under review.

Sugar ... ... 70 tons.

The Ihikergachi Mills have almost stopped working, and no improvement in this staple can be looked for until the new seasons crop of cane is cut.

ADMINISTRATION OF THE OPIUM DEPARTMENT DURING 1885-86.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—MIS. REVENUE.

Calcutta, the 5th March 1887.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

A letter No. 98B, dated 31st January 1887, from the Officiating Secretary to the Board of Revenue, submitting the reports of the Opium Agents of Behar and Benares for the year 1885-86.

General character of the season.

The weather during the year under review was, on the whole, exceptionally favourable until the commencement of March when prospects altered in the western portion of the Benares Agency. The Agent gives the following description of the change which then unfortunately occurred:—

"On the 8th and 9th of March a very heavy storm of rain passed over the whole extent of the Agency. As collections were generally in progress, the loss was severe. Even in the districts least affected the juice exuding from the plants was washed off Hail, too, fell very generally. The eastern districts escaped with comparatively slight damage, but in the western and northern tracts the loss was very great. In the Bareilly division it was estimated that the storm had reduced the outturn by nearly a half, and in the southern portions of Allahabad the loss was nearly as heavy. In Oudh and the Doab the outturn was also materially affected, although not to the same extent as in the two divisions above referred to. Where the crop escaped injury from hail it was attacked by blight; and although this fortunately made its appearance too late in the season to ruin the crop, it undoubtedly diminished the outturn which had at first been expected."

Settlements.

There was a strong desire on the part of the ryots to sow new lands with opium, as the crop had proved very profitable during the two previous seasons, owing to the good outturn. But the stock in hand had been increased by the same cause, and the Lieutenant-Governor, on a consideration of all the facts of the case, directed that the area of cultivation should not be extended. The following statement gives a comparative view of the results obtained—

Season.	Area engaged for	Land sown for cultivation.	Net cultivation.	Produce at 70° consistence.
Behar.	Bighas.	Bighas.	Bighas.	Mds. s. c.
1884-85	4,42,326	4,45,588	4,33,163	55,802 7 8¼
1885-86	4,59,461	4,63,835	4,53,516	59,865 22 8¼
Increase.	17,135	18,247	20 353	4,063 15 0½
Decrease.	.....	.. ...	.....	... ..
Benares.
1884-85	4,60,218	4,75,195	4,71 252	78,001 28 2¾
1885-86	4,65,861	5,00,946	4,98,361	61,634 0 0
Increase.	5,643	25,751	27,129	.....
Decrease.	.....	... ..	... .	16,367 28 2¾

It may be said that the apprehension that the supply of opium at present prices would become unprofitable to the cultivators, and that the poppy would be superseded by other crops, has for the present passed away. There is no longer any difficulty in obtaining at existing rates as much of the drug as is required for home consumption or exportation; and if more were needed, it would be readily produced.

Outturn.

The produce was 1,21,499 maunds of opium at 70° consistence, against 1,33,803 in the previous year. The decrease of 12,304 maunds is due to the loss caused in some places by the unfavourable weather in March; but for this the outturn would have somewhat exceeded that of 1884-85, which was the largest ever obtained. The average yield per bigha was 5 seers 4¼ chittacks in Behar, 4 seers 14¾ chittacks in the Benares Agency. In the latter Agency the average produce in 1884-85 was 6 seers 9 chittacks a bigha, and the falling off indicates the unfavourable character of the season. The gross produce was smaller, and there was a further loss on its conversion into damdata at 70° consistence. The low consistence of the Benares opium was a subject of comment in last year's Resolution, and there has been a further decline during the year under report. Although the deficiency is mainly due to the weather, it arises in part from preventible causes, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice that the Agent recognises its importance. Mr. Rivett-Carnac writes :—

"During the past cold weather, officers were specially deputed to Partabgarh and Rai Bareilly, where the evil seemed greatest, to assist the regular officers of the districts in superintending collections and impressing upon the cultivators the importance of delivering the opium at a higher consistence and free from passewah. These efforts were neutralised by the unfavourable circumstances of the season; but I hope that the future will show better results in this respect, as the cultivators gain more experience than they at present possess. This season it is proposed to introduce a special description of plate to assist in raising the consistence of the opium."

Balances.

The balances of advances made for cultivation outstanding at the end of the year were Rs. 16,913 in Behar and Rs. 11,316 in the Benares Agency, making a total of Rs. 28,229 against Rs. 26,753 last year. The amount is not large relatively to the sums advanced, but there is a considerable increase in Behar, although the loss of crop was not so great in that Agency as in Benares, where the balances have been reduced.

Well advances.

The amount advanced to opium cultivators for the construction of wells was Rs. 69,929, against Rs. 1,38,061 in the previous year. Under this head Mr. Rivett-Carnac observes :—

"Of the minor causes of the great popularity of the cultivation in these provinces, none is more effective than the granting of advances without interest for this purpose. I have always tried to impress the importance of the question upon the officers of the Agency, and it is to be hoped that the matter is better appreciated than before Well advances, however, entail trouble and responsibility on the staff : and unless the local officer is himself keen on the subject, the subordinates of the department are only too glad to hold that the people do not care for advances for the construction or repair of wells. It is very rarely that Government suffers any loss from the transaction, and this free granting of advances is undoubtedly looked upon as a great boon by the cultivators throughout the Agency."

The Lieutenant-Governor entirely agrees in the view thus expressed, and regrets that the Agent has not been able to give practical effect to it, the amount advanced in the Benares Agency having been Rs. 13,207 only, a sum which must be regarded as small, whether it is compared with that advanced during the previous year in the same Agency, or during the same year in the sister Agency.

Breaches of the Opium Law.

There were 1,265 prosecutions for breach of the Opium Law during the year, against 1,284 in 1884 85, and in the great majority of cases convictions were obtained. The most important seizure reported was that of 19¼ maunds of opium discovered in Azimgunge, packed in tobacco. The constant vigilance of Government officers is necessary to prevent very serious loss to the revenue from this form of evading excise duties. Very little opium pays duty in the producing districts, the inference being that such consumption as takes place is almost exclusively illicit, and the evil is not confined to those districts, as it is well known that a regular system of smuggling is carried on for the transport of the drug to distant places. At the same time it must be acknowledged that there are serious obstacles in the way of the complete suppression of illegal practices. The Benares Agent forcibly observes :—

"The difficulty in preventing the retention of small quantities of the produce lies in the enormous number of cultivators, the scattered nature of the cultivation, and the small staff of the department compared with the enormous area and the enormous number of producers to be supervised. The area under opium cultivation in these provinces is bighas 5,00,945-17-3. The amount of excise opium now supplied to the Government of the North-Western Provinces is 1,279 maunds 10 seers. Assuming that two maunds are "smuggled" for every maund sold for excise purposes, this would indicate that on each bigha of land 3·26 chittacks was retained by the cultivator. The most careful and elaborate inspection by an enormous staff, twenty times as large as that now at the disposal of the department, could not secure an estimate of produce so accurate as to enable an officer to detect at the weighments the smuggling or retention of 3¼ chittacks on a bigha of opium land. Then the number of cultivators licensed in the department amounts to 818,644. The 2,559 maunds of opium indicated above might be smuggled, each cultivator keeping back 2 chittacks of opium. But the number of persons concerned in the collection very much exceeds the above figures. During the opium harvest each cultivator employs five or six coolies, or children or members of his family, to collect the produce. So, assuming five labourers to each cultivator, i.e., each man who appears on the license, the amount of opium could be divided among about five million persons, giving an average of one third chittack to each person on the figures taken above. When it is remembered that each person employed collects the produce on a small porous earthenware platter, which, even when scraped most carefully, still retains by absorption some opium, it will be understood that a large quantity of extract of opium can be supplied from this source alone."

Government has lately passed orders which will have the effect of requiring the sanction of the officers of the Opium Department to the prosecution in Bengal of opium cultivators for such petty offences as the retention of infinitesimal quantities of the drug. It is for the Agent to see that the power thus trusted to the department is used with discretion, and that, while ryots are protected from malicious charges, there shall be no relaxation in the watchfulness of opium officers, and in the exertions of the Police to minimize the loss of revenue caused by the secretion of opium on the part of the cultivators.

Abandonment of the Malwa scheme.

The practice of purchasing opium in Malwa was continued during the year, but abandoned at its close. Malwa opium is considerably dearer than that produced at the Agencies, and is somewhat less popular. It should therefore be purchased only when the amount required cannot be obtained through the Agencies. Such is not the case at present; for a succession of good seasons has yielded a supply quite as large as is needed, and the produce can, moreover, be increased at pleasure. At the same time, the operations at Malwa indicate how a supply can at any time be obtained should the crop in the districts supervised by the Agencies unfortunately fail; and through the experience now gained in preparing the drug from the Malwa opium, the prejudices against its use are disappearing.

Character of officers.

The Board, in conformity with special orders, give particulars as to the number of Mahomedans employed, from which it appears that the complaint made that the members of this community are not admitted in sufficient numbers to the public service does not apply to the Opium Department, in which they have long worked with satisfactory results. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are given to Mr. Cockerell for his efficient supervision of the department on the part of the Board of Revenue. The Behar Agency was carefully administered during the year by Mr. Kemble, and afterwards by Mr. D'Oyly; and Mr. Rivett-Carnac, Agent of Benares, as also Mr. Porter, who officiated in the appointment for three months, rendered valuable services, which are duly acknowledged in the report of the Board of Revenue. Dr. Whitwell's name is favourably mentioned in connection with improvements introduced at the Patna Factory, and special notice is also due to Mr. Girling, who, after hard work as Superintendent of the Saw Mills, had on account of bad health to take leave to Europe. The Lieutenant-Governor is also glad to receive favourable reports of other officers, whose names have been communicated to the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

P. NOLAN,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

LIBERALITY OF RAI MOHESH CHANDRA CHUCKRABARTY BAHADUR OF JESSORE.

METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL SUMMARY OF THE PROVINCE OF BENGAL FOR THE MONTH OF FEBRUARY 1887.

THE meteorology of the month of February is very interesting, as it is a striking illustration of the after-effects of cold stormy weather and heavy snowfall in the Himalayan districts over the adjacent plain districts. The month of January was unusually stormy in the Sikkim hills. A series of depressions formed in Upper India, each of which passed eastwards into or through Bengal. They all gave stormy weather and snow in the Himalayan area, and, so far as can be judged from the few returns received, the snowfall was exceptionally heavy in the hill districts to the north of Bengal, and the weather unusually cold, gloomy and inclement. The general conditions accompanying the existence of these depressions were still present at the end of January. The barometer was very low, indicating deficiency of pressure over the whole of Bengal and the hill districts; (where it was apparently greatest). The defect at Darjeeling, for the week ending 28th January, averaged ·17″, whilst the greatest defect in the plains' districts, for the same period, was ·12″, at Calcutta, Gya, and Patna. There was slight indraught from the Bay of Bengal to the area of greatest depression, which gave damp southerly winds to the coast districts of Bengal. The temperature was generally below the average, the deficiency being most marked in the day temperature. The maximum temperature was from 1° (in Orissa) to 7° (in North Behar, and North Bengal and in Sikkim), below the normal temperature of the period; and the minimum night temperature from 1½° (in Orissa) to 5° (in Sikkim) below the average.

No marked change of weather conditions occurred until the 7th. From the 1st to the 7th, pressure oscillated slightly and somewhat irregularly, but was about ·12″ below its normal amount during the whole period. Temperature was below the average, the deficiency being as marked in the night as in the day temperatures. Southerly winds prevailed in South Bengal and Orissa, where the air was, in consequence, unusually damp. Skies were thickly covered with clouds in Sikkim, and more or less clouded in the adjacent plain districts. Showers continued to fall in the Darjeeling, Cooch Behar and Julpigoree districts until the 4th.

A rapid change of conditions commenced on the 7th, which was coincident with the clearing of the skies in Sikkim and the establishment of fine weather in the hill districts. All experience shows that the conclusion of a period of stormy weather in the hills, during the cold-weather months, is followed by a period of very cool, dry, pleasant weather in the adjacent plain districts. The present case was no exception. The barometer began to rise on the 7th, and pressure increased rapidly and continuously until the 10th, when the barometer stood higher than on the 7th, by amounts varying from ·22″ at Chittagong to ·33″ at Calcutta and at several stations nearest to the hills. Temperature decreased steadily until the 10th or 11th; the reduction of temperature was due partly, if not entirely, to the invasion of a body of dry cool air from the hills It was most marked in the night temperature, and was greatest in the plains' districts nearest to the area of previous heavy snowfall in the hills. Remarkably low temperatures were registered by the minimum thermometers on the night of the 10th in North Bengal. Thus, at Julpigoree, the minimum temperature in the shade was 36°, at Rungpore 37°, and at Dinagepore 38·9°, whilst at Darjeeling it was 21·3°. The air was also abnormally dry, and lower humidities were recorded at stations in North and East Bengal than have been observed for many years. Thus at Rungpore the humidity fell to 11 per cent. (the average humidity in January being 57), and at Dacca to 22 per cent. (the average being 58 per cent.)

The changes in the weather, described above, were far more marked in North, Central and East Bengal than in Behar In the latter area, the humidity differed very slightly from the normal humidity of the season, and the temperature, though lower than usual, was higher than in North and Central Bengal. Hence, it is quite certain that the abnormal coolness and dryness of the air at this period in North and East Bengal was not due to the transmission of a cool wave from Upper India, but was a local effect, due to local conditions in that area, or in the adjacent hill districts. Of these two causes, the latter is the only one adequate to explain the effect. The abnormal features of the weather in Bengal, commencing on the 7th of February, were therefore the result of stormy weather and heavy snowfall in the hills to the north of Bengal, and began to be exhibited as soon as fine clear weather was re-established over the hills.

A flow of dry cool air set in from the hills to the adjacent plains, the effects of which were most marked in the submontane districts of North Bengal, and to a slightly less extent over the whole of Bengal.

Just as, at spring tides, very high water (or a very large upward movement of the surface of the sea) is followed by very low water, or by an equally large downward movement, so the large rise of the barometer from the 7th to the 10th was followed by a similarly large fall. This was apparently supplemented by other actions, and the fall in Bengal was one of the largest, longest and most continuous that has occurred for many years in the cold weather. The barometer began to fall on the afternoon of the 10th, and with the exception of a slight general rise on the 13th, and a very slight local rise in North Bengal and Behar on the 24th, it fell continuously to the end of the month. The fall was very slow until the 17th, after which the barometer fell rapidly. The fall averaged ·2″ in amount from the 18th to the 25th, and ·12″ in amount from the 25th to the 28th, and was as large at Darjeeling as at the plains' stations. The barometer was from ·38″ to 5″ lower at the end of the month than on the 10th. Temperature and humidity began to increase on the 11th, but were considerably below the average for some days. The average rate of increase of the mean daily temperature was very nearly 1° and of the night temperature ½°. The winds in the coast districts became light and unsteady on the 22nd and 23rd, and on the 24th southerly winds set in, which caused a rapid increase of humidity and temperature in the coast districts, and a smaller increase in the interior. The southerly winds increased rapidly in force, and were blowing strongly at the end of the month towards the area of lowest pressure in North Bengal (and probably Assam). Temperature was normal on the 21st, and after that date up to the end of the month, was above the normal, the excess being chiefly shown in the day temperature, excepting in the coast districts, where it was nearly as marked in the night as in the day temperatures.

It may be noted that the high pressure in Northern India, at this time, gave a strong north-east monsoon over the Bay; and that in the south of the Bay squalls with rain and strong winds were experienced by several vessels.

Pressure—Increased slightly from the 1st to the 4th, and then decreased until the 7th, when it was practically the same in amount as on the 1st. A rapid increase then commenced and continued until the 10th or 11th. It was most marked in North Bengal and Behar, and locally at Calcutta, and was least in East Bengal and varied in amount from ·22″ to ·33″. The barometer then began to fall, and with the exception of a brief general rise on the 14th and a slight local rise in North Bengal and Behar on the 24th, it fell continuously during the remainder of the month, and, at the end of the month, was from ·4″ (in East Bengal) to ·48″ in South-West Bengal, Behar and Chutia Nagpur, lower than on the 10th. The barometric movements of the month thus consisted of two oscillations, the second one lasting from the 7th to the 25th and of unusually large amplitude. The mean pressure of the month was almost identical with the normal mean pressure. It was generally slightly in excess, by amounts which in no case exceeded ·016″ Hence, as it frequently happens in India, the mean pressure of the month gives little or no indication of the most important features of the fluctuations of the pressure during the month.

Temperature.—The month of February was unusually cool. Temperature was from 3° to 5° below the normal, at the commencement of the month. It increased steadily during the first week, but the change of the weather, initiated on the 7th, caused a remarkable reduction of temperature.

This table shows the effect in different parts of the province of the change initiated on the 7th. A very large reduction of both the day and night temperature followed, averaging about 10° in amount. The largest effect was produced in the Orissa and South-Western Bengal coast districts, where the unusual dryness of the air, produced by the northerly winds, caused a reduction of the night temperature, varying from 20° to 25° in amount.

Temperature gradually but steadily increased from the 11th. The setting in of southerly winds in the coast districts on the 22nd or 23rd caused a rapid rise of the night temperature, in these districts, during the last week. The following data for eight representative stations illustrate the more important features of the temperature during the month:—

The mean temperature of the month was below the average. The defect in South Behar averaged 1°, in North Behar and Chutia Nagpur 1½°, and in Bengal 2°.

Humidity and rainfall.—The humidity at the commencement and during the last week of the month was above the average, more especially in Behar and North Bengal. A few showers of little importance fell between the 1st and 4th in the Darjeeling, Julpigoree and Cooch Behar districts. The air became very dry after the change of weather on the 7th, and unusually low humidities were registered in Bengal from the 9th and 10th until the 15th and 16th. Over a large part of Bengal, the humidity decreased from 20 to 50 per cent. This change was most marked in North and East Bengal, and to a slightly less extent in the coast districts of South Bengal The humidities increased from the 11th, at first slowly, and afterwards more rapidly. The change of winds in the coast districts on the 22nd and 23rd, from north to south, caused a rapid increase; a few showers, none of which exceeded eight-tenths of an inch, fell in East Bengal on the 26th. No rain fell in Orissa, Behar and Chutia Nagpur during the month; their normal fall varies from one-half to three-quarters of an inch; North and South-West Bengal practically received no rain. In that area the normal rainfall varies from six-tenths to an inch. East Bengal received an average of ·15 inch, barely one-seventh of its normal amount (1·08 inches). The month was hence remarkably dry and practically rainless throughout the whole province.

The following table gives data for several stations illustrating the chief features of the humidity of the air during the month:—

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park-street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 2·1° lower; and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards, is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

Explanation.—Summary. The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical averages or means of the reading during the same period for the past ten years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as a percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number of the numerical measure of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub divisional stations for the period in question during the past 12 hours. Station in the district [illegible] are taken divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least a hundredth of an inch fell.

* Mean for 6 days.

CALCUTTA, the 8th March 1887.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 4TH OF MARCH 1887

THE chief feature of the meteorology of Bengal during the previous week was the large continuous fall of the barometer. This lasted until the 28th, when the barometer was from .38" (in South-East Bengal) to .47" over the greater part of Behar and North Bengal, lower than it was on the 10th of the month. There was hence at the commencement of the week under discussion an area of unusually low pressure in Bengal, which was giving rise to a considerable indraught from the Bay. The southerly winds intensified in the coast districts, and blew quite strongly in East Bengal on the 28th of February, and the 1st and 2nd of March. A few showers fell on the 26th in East Bengal, but it was not until the 1st that the indraught gave rise to fairly general and heavy rain in East Bengal and the greater part of North Bengal. The rainfall commenced in the northern districts of East Bengal on the 1st, and extended to the south-eastern districts (Chittagong, Backergunge, &c.) on the 2nd. The barometer began to rise on the 1st, and continued to rise until the 3rd. The rainfall of the 1st and 2nd cooled the air considerably in East Bengal, and the rise of the barometer was followed by an extension of north-westerly dry winds across South and Central Bengal. Hence a short period of dry, cool, pleasant weather ensued on the 3rd and 4th in Bengal, when the winds shifted back to south and the barometer began again to fall.

The mean pressure for the week has therefore been very considerably below the normal for the period. The mean defect of pressure over the whole province has been equal to a tenth of an inch, while at many stations, such as those in Orissa, South-West Bengal, and South Behar, and at Chittagong, the average defect for the week has considerably exceeded a tenth of an inch. The maximum defect was reported from Gya, where it has equalled 0·135". The defect, on the other hand, does not appear to have largely extended to the hill stations, for the pressure at Darjeeling was only 0·022" in defect of the normal.

The temperatures registered during the past week have been abnormally high. This is particularly the case with the night or minimum temperatures, which have been generally several degrees higher than the normal. This is shewn in the table below, where the temperature data for eight representative stations in the province are given:—

	Normal mean maximum temperature for the week ending 4th March 1887.	Actual mean maximum temperature for the week ending 4th March 1887.	Variation of actual from normal.	Normal mean minimum temperature for the week ending 4th March 1887.	Actual mean minimum temperature for the week ending 4th March 1887.	Variation of actual from normal. Darjeeling	50·1	55·1	+4·9	39·4	41·9	+2·5	44·9	48·6	+3·7

At some stations such as Purneah the night temperature was nearly seven (6·8) degrees in excess of the normal, while at Calcutta, Dacca, Bankipore and Hazaribagh the excess was larger than four degrees. The day or maximum temperatures have generally not been much in excess of the normal, though on some days some rather high maximum temperatures were reported; thus at Cuttack, on the 2nd and 4th of March, maximum temperature was 98·9°; at Midnapore, on the 2nd March, temperature was 97·3°, and at Gya, on March 4th, temperature was 93·2°. For the whole week the temperature of the province has been about 2·4° in excess of the normal.

As stated previously, there has been heavy rainfall in East and in parts of North Bengal during the week. The heaviest and most general rainfall was received on March 1st and 2nd, and on the latter day Fenny reported the very large amount of 5 inches. On the 1st, Joydebpore received 3·08 inches and Nowkilla 3·03 inches, while amounts of over 2 inches fell at Ramchanderpore, Mymensingh, Subornakhally, Dewangunge, Serajgunge, Sherpore and Magura. On the 2nd, Chittagong received 2·52 inches, Brahmanboria 2·6 inches, and the following stations amounts in excess of one inch:—Bhola, Noakholly, Hurrishpore, Ramgunj, Comilla and Nasirnagar. The heaviest rainfalls have therefore been confined to the following districts:—Chittagong, Backergunge, Noakholly, Tipperah, Mymensingh, Pubna and Bogra, while parts of the Dacca, Dinagepore and Rungpore districts have also received moderate rain.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the province for the week ending Friday, the 4th of March 1887:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

MEMORANDUM.

DURING the week ending 19th February 1887, the returns from the principal Municipalities in Bengal exhibited the following results :—

1. That the birth-rate in these Municipalities amounted to 19 8 per 1,000 of population against very nearly the same proportion, viz. 20 1 per 1,000, in the preceding week ending 12th February, and the death-rate to 23 3 against 24 8 per 1,000, indicating a falling off in the registration of deaths.

2. That the following Municipalities furnished the highest proportions of births and deaths :—

Births.	Ratio per mille.	Deaths.	Ratio per mille.
Jessore	42·8	Jessore	49·0
Monghyr	38·9	Serampore	47·1

Serampore	33·4	Gya	36·2
Bhagulpore	31·7	Midnapore	29·4
		Puri	29·4

3. That, as compared with the results of the preceding week, there was a sensible enhancement of mortality from cholera, with a decline, to a more or less extent, in that from the rest of the diseases (excepting small-pox, from which no death was reported), particularly in that from bowel-complaints and the maladies returned under the head of "Other causes":—

4. That excluding small-pox, from which, as before stated, no death was reported to have occurred, and bowel-complaints and injury, the casualties from which do not call for notice, cholera, fever, and "Other causes" proved conspicuously fatal in the following Municipalities :—

Cholera.	Ratio per mille.	Fever.	Ratio per mille.	Other causes.	Ratio per mille.

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans above alluded to cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorized form of age classification.

Export of Opium by Sea from Calcutta.

11. Opium may be exported by sea from the port of Calcutta if it has been purchased from the Government at a public sale held by the Board, and is covered by a pass or certificate granted by the Board. A certificate is a document authorising the Collector of Customs to allow the shipment of the opium specified in it within four days from the date of its issue. No pass or certificate for the export of opium will be issued on the same day on which the opium has been sold.

12. Shipping bills for exportation of opium must be printed in red ink and presented at the Custom-house in duplicate, accompanied by a certificate in such form as the Board may direct. The duplicate on which the pass is granted will be returned to the shipper to obtain delivery from the opium godown, the original being forwarded to the gate-officer on the wharf to expedite the passing of the opium out of the Custom-house.

13. (1) Save as provided by clause (3) of this rule, on ordinary working days, no treasury receipt in payment of opium, and no pass, will be accepted by the Board after 3-30 P.M., and no certificate will be granted after 4 P.M.

(2) Save as aforesaid, on Saturdays no receipt or pass will be accepted after 1-30 P.M., and no certificate granted after 2 P.M.

(3) A fee of five rupees will be charged on every pass or certificate which may be required to be granted after 4 P.M. on ordinary days and 2 P M. on Saturdays.

14. The certificates granted by the Board are to be returned to the Board, duly cancelled, at the close of the month.

15. A fee of five rupees will be charged to a shipper on presentation of shipping bills after 4 P.M. on the day of clearance of the China steamer.

16. Opium intended for export, which is not cleared from the godowns before 4-30 P.M., shall be conveyed to the steamer or ship from the ghât opposite the opium godowns in covered cargo-boats with properly-secured hatches.

17. As soon as the Intendant is aware that clearances will be made after 4-30 P.M., he shall make immediate report to the Collector of Customs, who will at once appoint one or more preventive officers, as may be necessary, to be in attendance at the ghât at which the cargo-boats lie. In his report the Intendant shall mention the probable number of chests which will be removed during the evening; and each day, as long as clearances are going on, he shall furnish the Collector of Customs with a similar report.

18. The preventive officer at the ghât shall examine all boat-notes and chests, and see the latter placed in the hold of cargo-boat. He shall then secure and seal, with a distinctive mark, the hatches or other openings or doors of the cargo-boat by which access may be had to the hold, before allowing the boat to proceed to the steamer or ship. He shall also make an entry in the boat-note specifying that the hatches or other openings or doors have been sealed.

19. The preventive officer on board the receiving steamer or ship shall carefully examine the seals affixed to the hatches or other openings or doors of a cargo-boat laden with opium, as soon as the boat arrives alongside the vessel, and shall not allow the seals to be broken in any case until he is prepared to receive the opium on board, and to superintend the removal of the chests from the hold of the cargo-boat.

20. If it appears to the preventive officer on board the receiving vessel that the seals placed on the hatches or other openings or doors of a cargo-boat have been broken in transit, or have been in any way tampered with, he shall immediately bring the matter to the notice of the officer in charge of the vessel, and shall examine each chest carefully. If any theft of opium is discovered, the preventive officer shall make an immediate report the river-police and to the Collector of Customs, mentioning at the same time the number of the cargo-boat and the name of the owner and manjee.

21. A shipper who removes his chests of opium from the Government premises after 4-30 P M. shall be required to pay a fee of two rupees for any number of chests up to twenty, three rupees for any number of chests above twenty and up to fifty, and five rupees for any larger number of chests.

22. The fees mentioned in rule 21 shall be realized by the Intendant before delivery of chests to the shippers, and shall be remitted daily by him to the Collector of Customs and shall form a special fund for the remuneration of preventive officers who may be employed beyond the usual working hours.

23. An application for the delivery of opium chests shall not be received by the Intendant after 9 P M.

24. When a requisition for the delivery of chests is presented to the Intendant between the hours of 5 P.M. and 9 P.M on ordinary working days, or between the hours of 2 P.M. and 9 P.M on Saturdays, he may require the payment of a fee of sixteen rupees in respect of the requisition, and a further fee of two annas in respect of each chest delivered.

25. The procedure described in rules 15 to 24, both inclusive, is enjoined specially in the case of opium cleared from the godowns after 4-30 P M.; but it may, on application by the shipper to the Intendant, be followed in the case of opium cleared before that time.

(b)—An ordinary inspection made at any time when the Inspector has reason to believe the boiler is being improperly worked or that the person in charge is not competent.

XV.—The Inspector shall give one week's notice of every such intended thorough examination; and if after that notice the boilers are not empty, cool, clean, and ready for inspection on the date named, the Inspector shall prohibit the boilers from working, and shall report the case to the Commissioners. Further, if any request be made to remove fittings or settings, and such be not complied with, the Inspector shall in like manner stop the working of the boilers.

Duties and Powers of District Engineers.

18. The District Engineer will be the officer in immediate charge of all the roads and buildings and other public works, the control of which is vested in a District or Local Board. He will arrange the details of their construction and be responsible for their custody and maintenance in efficient repair so far as the funds placed at his disposal permit. He will keep accurate plans of the land appertaining to all roads and buildings in his charge, and take prompt steps to prevent encroachments.

19. The District Engineer will receive positive orders only from the Chairman of the District Board. The duty of yielding implicit obedience to any orders so received must be clearly understood; but in the interpretation of general instructions he will act upon his own judgment.

20. The Subordinate Engineering staff of a District or Local Board will be under the immediate orders and control of the District Engineer, and all orders to them with reference to work should emanate from, or be issued through, the District Engineer.

21. The District Engineer will be responsible for the accuracy of all reports, plans, designs, specifications and estimates prepared by him, and must attest them by his signature.

22. The District Engineer will pay strict attention to the economical application of all labour and materials used on works in his charge, and will be responsible for preventing the expenditure on any work exceeding the amount of the sanctioned estimate. He should also strive to bring economically into use, on all occasions, the articles procurable in the local markets and the natural products of the district.

23. The District Engineer must exact from his subordinates a correct performance of their duties and give them all proper instructions. He will furnish them with proper working drawings and written instructions as to the execution of any works they may be entrusted with, using additional precautions to prevent errors or accidents at a distance from the head-quarters of the district.

24. The District Engineer will frequently inspect outlying roads and works in progress, and see that the work carried on by his subordinates or contractors is sound and economical. When on tour he will keep a journal in which the distances travelled will be noted. He will also keep note-books in which will be entered daily any particulars with reference to works in progress which may call for remark, the dates of all inspections, the orders issued to subordinates, the check measurements taken, the accounts inspected, and generally any details concerning his duties which may be worthy of remark. These note-books will be considered official records.

25. The District Engineer will be responsible that his accounts are regularly posted from day to day, and are kept in strict accordance with the rules made from time to time under section 138(i) of the Act.

26. On the completion of any work, a completion report shall be submitted by the District Engineer to the Chairman; and any deviation from the design and estimate that may have been made during the construction of the work must be fully explained in it.

Duties and Powers of Inspector of Local Works.

27. The Inspector of Local Works will make frequent tours of inspection in the districts of the Commissioner's division to which he is appointed. He will not only minutely survey and report upon the state of the various works, whether completed or in progress in each district, but will carefully enquire into the system of management prevailing in respect to the preparation and cost of materials, the style of execution, the price of labour, and the rates of work. He will satisfy himself that building or road materials and other resources available in each district are brought into use in the most efficient and economical manner, and that the means of communication, projected or completed, are adapted to the requirements of the traffic.

28. The Inspector of Local Works will also, during his inspections, enquire into and report on the efficiency of the Engineering establishments employed under District or Local Boards.

29. The Inspector of Local Works will also carefully inspect the books of District Engineers and their subordinates and the arrangements and procedure for the primary accounts, and see that they are kept in the manner prescribed.

30. Besides his regular tours of inspection, the Inspector of Local Works will proceed to any place in his division whenever it may be necessary for him to report on any important design or work, or on any serious accident or threatened danger to any works, or on any calamity, actual or anticipated, the remedy for which may appear to be within the range of engineering skill.

31. Detailed reports of all his inspections shall be drawn up by the Inspector of Local Works for the information of the Commissioner, and a copy thereof, so far as may relate to a particular district, shall be forwarded by him to the District or Local Board concerned through the Magistrate of the District.

32. Although the detailed designs and estimates for works will commonly be prepared by District Engineers, the arrangement and general plan of all important works should be concerted with the Inspector of Local Works, who will be responsible for the engineering character of every project that he passes on with his approval. The Inspector of Local Works may, if he see fit, himself prepare the designs for any work in his division. He will communicate freely and personally on all professional matters with District Engineers, and afford them the benefit of his advice in the performance of their duties.

33. The Inspector of Local Works will, in submitting to the Commissioner any reports, plans, estimates or other documents relating to the works of District Boards, invariably state his own opinion as to the suitability of the designs and reasonableness of the rates. He must also check the calculations in detail of all estimates and compare the quantities in the estimates with those shown on the drawings. If projects are sent up by District Boards without proper information, he will return them for such further information as the case may need

34. The Office of the Inspector of Local Works will be located in the same place as that of the Commissioner of the Division, and he will correspond direct with District Boards regarding all matters in which he exercises powers assigned to him by these rules.

Mode of preparation and submission of plans, designs, specifications, and estimates for works for approval and sanction.

35. All estimates and projects for the construction or repair of buildings, roads, bridges, and other public works undertaken by District and Local Boards shall be classed under one or other of the two heads Repairs or Original Works, and shall be prepared in the forms prescribed in the Public Works Department Code, Volume I, Chapter VII (fifth edition), and submitted for the sanction of the District or Local Board in meeting. Estimates for Repairs shall include all operations required to maintain works in proper condition, and estimates for Original Works all those which do not come under the classification of repairs.

36. The cost of every survey or preliminary operation other than those which can be carried out by the paid district establishment shall be considered to be an "original work," and shall be covered by a sanctioned estimate and aspecific assignment of funds.

37. A revised estimate shall be prepared immediately there is reason to anticipate that an estimate will be exceeded by more than 10 per cent. of its total amount, or where considerable alterations of the original estimate are desired, and it shall be submitted for the approval of the authorities whose sanction would be necessary if it were an orignal estimate.

38. In the case of all works of importance, the District Engineer shall submit a rough design for the approval of the Inspector of Local Works before preparing the detailed drawings and estimates.

39. All sanctions given by the District or Local Boards shall be formally recorded in their proceedings.

40. Except in case of emergency, or to prevent damage or loss, no work shall be put in hand until an estimate for carrying it out has been sanctioned; and no proposal for the execution of any work shall be sanctioned by a District or Local Board, unless it be accompanied by a properly detailed estimate, and, when necessary, by properly prepared drawings showing fully the work proposed.

41. In the case of the following classes of estimates or projects, the sanction of the District or Local Board shall be provisional only, and subject to the confirmation and approval of the authority indicated :—

(e). All estimates for expenditure under the provisions of section 79 of the Act except the planting of trees on the sides of roads

When the sanction of the authority indicated is received, the provisional sanction of the District or Local Board shall be confirmed by a resolution to be formally recorded in their proceedings, and the execution of the work may thereafter be proceeded with in accordance with any provision that may be made for it in the budget of the year.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT,—BENGAL.

DISTRICT ROAD FUND.

NOTIFICATION No. 91.

The 10th March 1887.

THE annual accounts and reports of the Road Cess Committees of the districts of Cuttack, Pooree, and Balasore, for the cess year 1885-86, together with the remarks thereon of the Commissioner of the Orissa Division, are published for general information.

W. B. BESTIC,

Under-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, P. W. Dept.

No. 6, dated Cuttack, the 3rd January 1887.

From—C. W BOLTON, Esq., Chairman, Road Cess Committee Cuttack,
To—The Commissioner of the Orissa Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit the annual accounts and report of the Cuttack District Road Fund for the cess year 1885-86, together with the detailed accounts of receipts and expenditure, duly examined and passed by the Sub-Committee of audit.

2. The District Committee previously consisted of 18 members; but in consequence of four* of them having been disqualified owing to their absence at six consecutive meetings, the personnel of the Committee was reduced to only 14 members at the close of the year—four official and ten non-official. I will nominate four gentlemen to fill up the vacancies.

* District Superintendent of Police, Executive Engineer, Brahmini-Byturni Division, Baboo Bohary Lall Pundit, Munshi Mahamod Ataher.

3. There were six meetings of the District Committee during the year. The attendance of both official and non-official members was, I think, far from satisfactory.

* * * * *

At two meetings no quorum was obtained, and the average attendance at the other meetings was very small. With the exception of two or three gentlemen, who generally attend, the non-official members appear to take no interest whatever in the proceedings of the Committee. Of the officials, also, the Chairman is the only regular attendant.

4. During the year there were three meetings of the Branch Committee at Jajpur and two at Kendrapara. In all the meetings there was a quorum.

5. The actual receipts brought to the credit of the Fund during the year were Rs. 72,344-5-6, including the grant from Government of Rs. 1,700 on account of contribution towards the cost of joint establishment. The outstanding balance on the 30th September 1886 was Rs. 15,106-11-7. The total expenditure of the year amounted to Rs. 64,611-4-9, including the cost of establishment and minor charges.

6. Original Works.—No new line of communication was opened during the year. Only an extension of two miles of the Machgan road and of the Jobra pilgrim road was budgeted for. The works could not, however, be taken up, as futher consultation on the subject with the Public Works Department was considered necessary. The following original works were executed at a cost of Rs. 10,943:—

(a) Metalling.—Two miles on the Taldunda road.

(b) Bridges.—One timber bridge on the 66th mile of the Chandbali road.
One timber bridge on the 7th mile of the Jajpur-Kendrapara road.
One timber bridge on the 11th mile of the Baruan-Indupur road.
One masonry bridge on the 3rd mile of the Sujang-Sirlo road.

(c) Culvert.—One culvert on the 9th mile of the Machgan road.
One culvert on the 8th mile of the Sonepur road.

(d) Causeways.—One at 10th mile of the Jajpur-Kendrapara road.

(f) Additions to the road cess office.

(g) Closing the north branch of the Prachi river.

7. All the above works were completed at the close of the year, with the exception of the addition to the road cess office building, and a portion of the metalling on the Taldunda road. Of the former, the masonry work was done, but some plastering, woodwork, varnishing and painting could not be finished within the year. The metalling on the Taldunda road could not be completed, because metal could not be brought from the quarries across the Mahanuddi owing to the breach in the anicut at Jobra.

8. Repairs.—All the existing roads, bridges, and bungalows were, as usual, repaired during the year at a cost of Rs. 30,453-15-7. The greater part of the damage done by the cyclone of 1885, as described in paragraph 3 of my last annual report, was repaired as far as the funds at the disposal of the Committee permitted. The roads are now in fair order, and passable for traffic. On the metalled lines repairs were carried out where metal had been accumulated before the breach in the Mahanuddi anicut.

9. It was found necessary during the year to abandon the old bungalow at Patpur on the Banki road, and construct a new one on a higher site beyond the reach of the floods of the Mahanuddi, and funds for the building were procured from savings from other works. The work was put in hand a little before the close of the year, and could not therefore be completed by the end of September.

10. Another bungalow was also taken up and constructed at Baruan on the Jajpur-Kuakhia road. Rupees 548 were at first sanctioned; but this being found insufficient, the original estimate had to be supplemented by Rs. 545, which were chiefly spent on the construction of out-offices.

11. The damage done to the existing bungalows on the Kendrapara and Jagatsingpur sub-divisions, alluded to in paragraph 4 of my last year's report, was also repaired during the year at a cost of Rs. 2,562-6-10. The bungalows are now in good condition.

12. There being a bungalow belonging to the Public Works Department within three quarters of a mile of the road cess bungalow at Jaepur, it was considered unnecessary to keep the latter any longer.

13. In arboriculture satisfactory progress was made in planting out, the total number of trees placed along the road-sides during the year being 7,578. The charges on this account for the maintenance of trees previously planted amounted to Rs. 1,665-1-3.

14. Village roads.—Rupees 4,700 were allotted under the head of village roads, viz., to the Sudder sub-division Rs. 2,000, to the Jajpur sub-division Rs. 1,200, and to the Kendrapara sub-division Rs. 1,500. Three entirely new village roads were constructed, and others were repaired. In the previous year the number of new roads constructed was larger; but nothing more could be done during the year under report. The number of applications for the construction or repair of village roads is very large, and it is impossible to comply with more than a small fraction of them in each year, the funds of the Committee being mainly required for the district roads. The applications have been registered, and they will be dealt with as far as possible in the order of priority, according to the funds available.

15. The District Engineer, Mr. Desgratoulet, has continued to discharge his duties to the satisfaction of the Committee. The office of the Vice-Chairman was held during the year by Baboo Ramakhai Chatterji, Deputy Collector.

16. The office and out-door establishments have worked well. The head clerk is a hard-working and careful officer.

17. A separate report on the state of collections and arrears of cesses has already been submitted from the Collectorate side (vide No. 326, dated 1st November 1886).

18. A copy of the audit certificate of the Sub-Committee is herewith enclosed.

CUTTACK ROAD CESS OFFICE,
The 28th December 1886.

RAMAKHOY CHATTERJEE,
Vice-Chairman.

RAMAKHOY CHATTERJEE,
Vice-Chairman, for Chairman.

WE, the undermentioned members of the Cuttack Road Cess Sub-Committee do hereby certify that we have examined the annual accounts of the Cuttack Road Cess Committee for the cess year 1885-86, and found them to be correct.

RAMAKHAI CHATTERJEE,
Vice-Chairman.
KALI PADO BANERJEE,
Member.

No. 21, dated Pooree, the 25th January 1887.

From—H. SAVAGE, ESQ., Chairman, Road Cess Committee, Pooree,
To—The Commissioner of the Orissa Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit the annual report on the administration of the District Road Fund for the cess year 1885-86, together with a detailed account of receipts and expenditure during the cess year.

* * * * * *

3. There is only one Branch Road Cess Committee at Khorda. No meeting of the Branch Committee was held during the year.

4. Village roads.—Rs. 3,018-2-1 has been spent on village road-works during the year, and at the close of the year an advance of Rs. 1,639-9-6 was outstanding on account of work in progress.

5. District roads.—"Upper Armstrong" road, joining the Armstrong road proper, and the Port flagstaff road in the station Pooree was constructed during the year, partly from the municipal and partly from District Road Fund, and the existing district roads were kept up in fair working order. The funds of the Committee are very limited, and it is impossible to do much in the way of new work in any one year. And as the more new works are executed, the greater is the amount required for repairs; it will not be many years before the extreme limit of new work on the present income will be reached.

6. Tree-planting.—No tree has been planted during the year; but those already planted on the sides of the district roads were taken care of; Rs. 352 was spent during the year on account of charges for establishment entertained for the maintenance of the trees.

7. Inspection bungalows.—Two inspection bungalows—one at Jagadalpur, on the Patnaikiabazar to Khorda road, and the other at Pratap, on the extension of the Balugan and Banpur road—were erected during the year, but not paid for for want of funds. They will be paid for this year (1886-87).

8. Supplying drinking-water.—An experimental well was sunk at Pooree in connection with the project of supplying good drinking water in the municipality of Pooree. Two other pucca wells—one at Jagadalpur, and the other at Pratap—were constructed during the year. But the cost of excavating these wells have not been paid to the contractors for want of funds. It will be paid this year (1886-87).

9. Annual inspection.—The office of the District Road Cess Committee was inspected by the local Examiner in January 1886.

(b) As per Commissioner's No. 4370, dated 14th August 1886.

PROBHAT CHUNDER CHUNDER,
Vice-Chairman.

No. 252, dated Balasore, the 29th November 1886.

From—T. J. C. GRANT, Esq., Chairman, Balasore Road Cess Committee,
To—The Commissioner of the Orissa Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit the annexed accounts and the following brief report on the administration of the Road Fund of this district for the cess year 1885-86.

2. Original works.—The original works of the year were the widening of the two bridges on the Port Road and the construction of seven culverts on the Soroh to Kupari road. Works to the value of Rs. 1,371-10, as shown in the statements, were executed in 1884-85 in lengthening the port road, for which provision was made in the budget for that year, but which was paid for during the year under report.

3. Repairs.—Almost all the district roads for the repairs of which provision was made in the budget were repaired and kept in a passable order. The system of repairing first the most important roads, mention of which was made in the last year's report, bids fair to answer the wished for objects in the long run, and this belief is strengthened by one year's experience of the state of roads, which have no doubt improved. The management of road No 9 has been transferred during the year from the Executive Engineer of Balasore Division to the Engineer of the Department. The road was kept in passable order.

The members of the Committee cannot afford to pay anything towards remodelling the road from Bhudruck to Chandbally, the cost of which is out of all proportion to the resources of the fund. Further, the Committee do not think that the road will be of very great utility when the coast canal work is complete. If, however, the road be considered in the light of a provincial work, the cost may be met by Government.

4. Arboriculture.—The three nursery gardens that are in existence in this district are kept neat and clean, and the plants therein are preserved with every care and new plants are being grown now. The system adopted by the Committee of planting trees at first on some of the selected and important roads by appointing mallies is working well. The road-side plants already existing are growing in thickness with rich foliage, and new ones are being planted. In order to complete arboricultural works on those roads, a sufficient sum has this year been provided in the budget.

The contractor of the Bahaloga to Talpada road has made his best endeavours in this direction, and has been amply rewarded for his labour.

Bamboo fences have been put up round the small plants on the sides of the town roads in order to save them from being injured by cattle.

5. Village Roads.—The village roads of the Sudder as well as of the Bhudruck sub-division were repaired, but the amount allotted for this purpose in the sub-division could not be paid during the year, owing to non-receipt of bills from the Branch Committee before the close of the year.

* * * * *

7. Committee.—The Sudder and Sub-divisional Committees consist of 17 and 15 members respectively.

8. Attendance of Executive Engineer.—The Executive Engineer of the Balasore Division attended two meetings of the Committee, but the Executive Engineer of the Jajpur-Acquapada Division attended none.

9. Working of the Cess Act IX (B.C.) of 1880.—The Cess Act has been all along and is working smoothly here. Arrears of cess are recovered by aid of the certificate procedure under the Public Demands Recovery Act. There is nothing more worth mentioning under this head.

10. Character of Officers.—Baboo Rasbehari Nayk was cess Deputy Collector for the year, except for the few months at the beginning, when Baboo Kali Podo Mukherji was in charge of that Department. He has proved himself to be a very valuable officer, most painstaking and very intelligent.

Kumar Baikuntha Nath Dé was Vice-Chairman of the Road Cess Committee during the year, except when he went to Calcutta for a few months, during which period the charge was with the Chairman. He has continued to be as zealous and interested in his work as ever, and is simply beyond praise.

Establishment.—Baboo Keshori Mhohon Mookherji was District Engineer of the Committee throughout the last year.

Explanatory sheet to accompany the Road Fund Annual Accounts for 1885-86.

(a). Half salary of the duftry originally provided for under the head "Administration" was transferred to the head "Establishment and Contingencies of the Office of Collection," as his whole salary was charged to that head.

(b). This amount was sanctioned by the Board in their letter No. 50A, dated 1st March 1886, copy received with Commissioner's No. 136C, dated 8th March 1886.

(c). Rupees 2,369-7 was sanctioned by the Board in their No. 1A, dated 5th January 1886, copy received with Commissioner's No. 22C, dated 15th January 1886, for the auditor's establishment, out of which Rs. 973-12 was expended during the cess year 1884-85. The remainder Rs. 1,395-11 was shown as budget grant during this year.

(d). Out of Rs. 580 sanctioned by the Commissioner in No. 72C, dated 8th February 1886, for the publication of notifications under Chapter IV, Part II of Act IX (B.C.) of 1880, as directed by the Board of Revenue in their letter No. 5A, dated 12th January 1885, copy received with Commissioner's No. 20C, dated 23rd January 1885, Rs. 60 was added to the head "Stationery and Printing" on account of price of notifications A and B, and the remainder Rs. 520 was added to this head on account of their cost of publication.

(e). Rupees 450 was sanctioned in Commissioner's No. 370C, dated 14th July 1886, for the service of valuation rolls through the agency of the local canoongoes.

(f). Rupees 42, being the half salary of the duftry attached to the Cess Office, was deducted from this head and added to the head "Establishment and Contingencies of the Office of Collection," as stated in column (a).

(g). The original grant of Rs. 500 had in addition of Rs. 440-7-6, sanctioned in Commissioner's No. 72C and No. 389C, dated 8th February 1886 and 21st July 1886, respectively.

(h). Rupees 4,000 was provided in the budget for 1885-86 on account of lengthening the Port road, but the expenditure made on the road during the year could not be paid before its close, and was therefore paid in the year under review from the general savings of the fund.

(i). The excess expenditure of Rs. 1-2 made on this road is to be met from the general savings of the fund.

(j). The original grant of Rs. 1,400 was supplemented by a sum of Rs. 138-1, sanctioned in Commissioner's No. 435C, dated 13th August 1886, and the excess expenditure (Rs. 62-10-6) represents the advance made to the Executive Engineer, Balasore Division, in previous year, adjusted by work done during the year under report.

(k). Rupees 6,978 was sanctioned as grant-in-aid—vide Government letter No. 234, dated 31st December 1885, copy received with Commissioner's No. 67C, dated 14th January 1886.

(l). The original grant of Rs. 150 was supplemented by a sum of Rs. 91-1, sanctioned in Commissioner's No. 389C, dated 21st July 1886, but Rs. 241-1, shown as expenditure, was solely met from the advance of Rs. 150 made to the Sub-Deputy Collector of Chandbally in previous year, adjusted during the year, and Rs. 91-1 sanctioned by the Commissioner, as stated above, leaving the grant for the year unexpended.

Explanations.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical averages or means of the reading during the same period for the past ten years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as a percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number of rainy days is the number of days on which at least 0·01 inch of rain fell. The rainfall is the average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional stations for the period in question during the past 24 hours. In the districts sending in returns it is the returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

* Mean for 6 days.

CALCUTTA, the 15th March 1887.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 11TH OF MARCH 1887.

DURING the previous week weather conditions had been a little abnormal, and an area of decidedly low pressure had formed in Bengal, which had been attended with moderate to heavy rainfall in East and over parts of North Bengal. This depression, however, filled up, and this was followed by a day or two of more or less north-east monsoon conditions over the greater part of the province. These, however, very rapidly gave way, and at the close of the week hot weather conditions were again replacing them. The principal feature in the meteorology of the present week has therefore been the continued gradual establishment of the hot weather conditions over the province. For the first two or three days the changes were a little irregular; winds were light and variable, and pressure oscillated rather considerably, while temperature for the first day or two rose rapidly and then fell rather suddenly. For the second-half of the week the barometric pressures diminished rapidly, temperatures rose steadily, and the southerly and south-westerly winds blowing at the head of the Bay strengthened very considerably, penetrating over a considerable part of the province, and at the same time brought up much moisture. These southerly winds were decidedly intensified by a very rapid fall of pressure which had taken place over parts of Northern India, and on the last day of the week there was a large area, comprising the Punjab, the Gangetic plain and Chutia Nagpur, where pressure was decidedly low and indeed considerably below the normal pressure for March. For the greater part of the week weather conditions have thus been fairly settled over the greater part of the province, but in Orissa and at some of the eastern stations a few local showers have been reported, accompanying apparently small local storms in several instances. There has, however, been nothing like general rainfall reported in any district as was the case in the previous week.

Pressure—Continues below the normal in all districts, the average defect for the week being decidedly large in South Behar, where at Gya it amounts to no less than 0·137". The defect also equals about a tenth of an inch at such stations as Patna, Durbhunga, Berhampore, and Calcutta, while the general average defect for the week for the whole province has been 0·082".

Temperature—Has again been decidedly above the normal, and the general average excess has been equal to nearly 2°. Maximum temperatures have increased decidedly during the week, and on the 6th and 7th Cuttack registered a maximum temperature of no less than 101·9°, while at Midnapore on the 6th it was 101·3°. The general range of temperature for the week and its variation from the normal temperature for the same period are shown in the case of eight typical selected stations in the table given below :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

○ overcast, ▵ dew.

N.B.—In the weekly abstract from 6 h to 12th February 1887, read 72 9 for 77·1 as the mean temperature of the 7th, and also read 65·7 for 66·3 as the mean temperature of the seven days.

MEMORANDUM.

THE birth and death returns of the principal Municipalities in Bengal (excluding Jessore, from which no return has yet been received), for the week ending 26th February 1887, exhibit the following results:—

1. That births were registered in these Municipalities at the rate of 20 per 1,000 of population, as opposed to very nearly the same proportion, viz. 19·7 per 1,000, during the preceding week ending 19th February, and deaths at 26·1 per 1,000 against 23·1 per 1,000 indicating a considerable improvement in the registration of deaths.

2. That these events were returned in the highest proportions from the following Municipalities:—

Births.	Ratio per mille.	Deaths.	Ratio per mille.
Comillah	38·5	Serampore	54·9
Monghyr	35·3	Suburbs of Calcutta	49·4
Beauleah	34·2	Gya	39·0
Bhagulpore	30·8	Puri	37·8
		Comillah	34·6
		Bali	31·6

3. That the rates of mortality from the principal diseases, contrasted with the similar information for the preceding week, stood as follows:—

Injury	·5	·2
Other causes	7·9	6·2

indicating chiefly that the mortality from cholera, and the maladies returned under the head of "Other causes," had increased to a noticeable extent.

4. That of the abovementioned diseases only cholera and the maladies classed under the head of "Other causes" proved severely fatal in the following Municipalities, small-pox showing no deaths, and the rest of the death-causes no noticeable exacerbations:—

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans above alluded to cannot be considered [illegible] with the corresponding ratios based and having been [illegible] under the antiquated form of age classification.

N. St.L. Carter,
Traffic Manager.

Traffic Manager's Office, Jamalpur, the 10th March 1887.

General remarks on the fluctuation of principal staples carried over the East Indian Railway during the month ended 29th January 1887.

INCREASES.

Coal and coke.—There was an increase in the upward despatches due to larger demands from Foreign railways In the downward traffic there was a decrease reported as consequent on a difficulty in obtaining labour and to some of the mines being still under water.

Other fibres, raw.—The increase was chiefly in hemp consigned from Allahabad to Calcutta for export.

Rice (husked and unhusked).—The increase in earnings was almost entirely in the despatches from stations on the Loop line due to abundant crops, and to there having been a scarcity in Madras and Bombay and in the Central and North-Western Provinces.

Railway Material, Foreign.—This increase was due to despatches for the Indian Midland Railway

Seeds.—The traffic in linseed showed a large increase, but there was a heavy decrease in indigo seed and seeds of other kinds The linseed was despatched to Howrah for shipment.

Sugar, refined and unrefined.—The small increase in earnings in proportion to weight may be ascribed to the traffic, being short lead between the Oudh and Rohilkund and Bombay-Baroda and Central Indian Railways.

DECREASES.

Cotton.—The decrease in the receipts from cotton is exceptional during the current season, and the traffic has since improved

Piece-goods.—The decrease under this head was due to the up-country markets being dull.

Gunny.—This decrease may be ascribed to ordinary fluctuation of trade.

Fruits, other kinds.—The decrease was chiefly in betel-nuts from Howrah and myrabolams from Jubbulpore line stations.

Gram and Pulses.—There was a decrease in long distance and an increase in short distance traffic.

Other rain and spring crops.—The despatches from North-Western Provinces to Bombay vid Jubbulpore were less than during last year

Hides.—This was due to there being little or no demand in Calcutta

Brass and copper.—Due to the up-country markets being dull and overstocked.

Iron.—The decrease in earnings may be ascribed almost entirely to the reduced rates introduced in 1886.

Opium.—Due to Government arrangements for despatch of this drug.

Salt.—This decrease is partly attributable to the up-country markets having been overstocked by the heavy despatches from Howrah during previous months.

Government stores.—Due to the Camp of Exercise in 1886

Wheat.—The decrease was nominal.

R. H. WILSON,
Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 13 (Stat. and Com.), dated 20th January 1887.

From—The Secretary of State for India,
To—The Government of India.

I FORWARD herewith, for your information, a copy of a translation of a project of law for the temporary admission into Spain of certain merchandise which, by its nature, is capable of being either improved or changed by means of industrial processes, together with a list of the articles which can be so imported.

Project of law for the temporary admission into the Peninsula of merchandise which, being capable by its nature of being either improved or changed by means of industrial processes, is introduced into Spain for that purpose.

ARTICLE I.

Government is authorised to allow the temporary admission into the Peninsula and Balearic Isles of merchandise which, being capable by its nature of being either improved or changed by means of industrial processes, is introduced into Spain for that purpose.

ARTICLE II.

The Provincial Boards of Agriculture, Industry and Commerce, the Chambers of Commerce, and generally, all those who may have an interest in this concession, may make known to the Director-General of Customs within thirty days reckoned from the date of the publication of the request of their desires on this subject.

ARTICLE III.

The importers of merchandise, on introducing such articles into the Peninsula and Balearic Islands, shall pay or shall guarantee to pay to the satisfaction of the Administration the duties which, according to the Custom House Tariff, they would have to pay in the state in which they be imported.

ARTICLE IV.

The products obtained by national industry, by alterations or modifications of the merchandise temporarily introduced, can be brought forward, when being exported to foreign countries or to Spanish colonies, or to be stored in one of the general deposits of the country, for a claim of exemption of payment of duties, whether such goods have been amalgamated with other materials or not; but if destined to be deposited, they will be subject to the regulations by which such goods are governed.

ARTICLE V.

If the import duties should have been paid, they will be returned to the importers in due proportion, or else the guarantee will be cancelled, as soon as such goods are exported to a foreign country or to a Spanish colony, and that their arrival at their destination being proved in such manner as may be prescribed, exception being made of such cases when either through shipwreck or other cause the goods have been lost. If the goods are destined for deposit, the cancelling of the guarantee or the repayment of the duty will be made by means of a certificate of its entry in any of the deposits of the Peninsula.

Moreover, after fulfilling these conditions, the duties of whatever description which may have been paid or guaranteed for by the importer of merchandise from the Spanish colonies shall be returned or the guarantee cancelled.

ARTICLE VI.

Imports of a temporary nature will only be allowed to be entered through a first class Custom House, and the export of the goods after they may have been improved or changed must be effected through the same Custom House as that through which they were introduced.

ARTICLE VII.

It must be the same person, firm or company, or the legal representative of it, who will enjoy the benefit and re-export the merchandise.

ARTICLE VIII.

The Government, after hearing, if they think fit, the Tariff and Valuation Board, will establish in each of the concessions it may grant the special rules which are to be applied; and the amount per unit which is to be returned on re-exportation of the goods which have been subjected to either improvement or alteration, taking into consideration the decrease or increase which each class of goods may have undergone by virtue of the industrial processes to which they may have been subjected. They will also determine the period within which goods are to be temporarily imported and re-exported from Spain after having undergone the improvement process. This also applies to goods destined to be deposited previous to their exportation or consumption, and after that period, which is not to be prolonged on any account whatever, the duties which may have been paid on the importation or the guarantee given will go to the benefit of the State.

ARTICLE IX.

The administration of customs will publish, at fixed periods, statistics with regard to the temporary importations which have taken place, enumerating the class and quantity of goods so imported, their origin and locality from whence they came, as well as the places to which such goods may have been re-exported and their destination, and those which may have remained in the country for consumption owing to the re-exportation of them not having taken place within the period granted.

ARTICLE X

The Minister of Finance is entrusted with the carrying out of the law, and he will take the necessary measures for that purpose.

The 19th March 1887.—In accordance with the provisions of section 18, sub-section (1), of the Indian Explosives Act, No. IV of 1884, and with the directions contained in Home Department Notification No. 1437 of the 14th August 1885, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to publish for general information the following draft of rules to regulate the manufacture, possession, and sale of explosives, which he proposes to make under the above Act.

The draft will be taken into consideration on the expiry of one month from the original date of this notification.

F. B. PEACOCK,
Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

DRAFT.

DRAFT RULES UNDER THE EXPLOSIVES ACT, 1884.

PRELIMINARY.

1. FOR the purposes of these rules, explosives shall be classified as follows, namely :—

Class	1	Gunpowder.
,,	2	Nitrate-mixture.
,,	3	Nitro-compound.
,,	4	Chlorate-mixture.
,,	5	Fulminate.
,,	6	Ammunition.
,,	7	Firework.

And when an explosive falls within the description of more than one class, it shall be deemed to belong exclusively to the latest of the classes within the description of which it falls.

CLASS 1.—Gunpowder Class.

The term "gunpowder" means exclusively gunpowder ordinarily so called.

CLASS 2.—Nitrate-mixture Class.

The term "nitrate-mixture" means any preparation, other than gunpowder ordinarily so called, formed by the mechanical mixture of a nitrate with any form of carbon or with any carbonaceous substance not possessed of explosive properties, whether sulphur be or be not added to such preparation, and whether such preparation be or be not mechanically mixed with any other non-explosive substance.

The nitrate-mixture class comprises such explosives as—

Pyrolithe,
Pudrolithe,
Poudre saxifragine,

and any preparation coming within the above definition.

CLASS 3.—Nitro-compound Class.

The term "nitro-compound" means any chemical compound possessed of explosive properties, or capable of combining with metals to form an explosive compound, which is produced by the chemical action of nitric acid (whether mixed or not with sulphuric acid) or of a nitrate mixed with sulphuric acid upon any carbonaceous substance, whether such compound is mechanically mixed with other substances or not.

The nitro-compound class has two divisions.

Division 1 comprises such explosives as—

Nitro-glycerine,	Dualine,
Dynamite,	Glyoxiline,
Lithofracteur,	Methylic nitrate,

and any chemical compound or mechanically mixed preparation which consists either wholly or partly of nitro-glycerine or of some other liquid nitro-compound.

Division 2 comprises such explosives as—

Gun-cotton, ordinarily so called,	Cotton gunpowder,
Gun-paper,	Schultz's powder,
Xyloidine,	Nitro-mannite,
Gun-sawdust,	Picrates,
Nitrated gun-cotton,	Picric powder,

and any nitro-compound as before defined, which is not comprised in the first division.

CLASS 4.—Chlorate-mixture Class.

The term "chlorate-mixture" means any explosive containing a chlorate.

The chlorate-mixture class has two divisions.

Division 1 comprises such explosives as—

Horsley's blasting powder,	Brain's blasting powder, and any chlorate preparation which consists partly of nitro-glycerine or of some other liquid nitro-compound.

Division 2 comprises such explosives as—

Horsley's original blasting powder,	Reichen's blasting charges,
Erhardt's powder,	Teutonite,
Reverley's powder,	Chlorated gun-cotton,
Hochstadter's blasting charges, and any chlorate-mixture as before defined, which is not comprised in the first division.

CLASS 5.—Fulminate Class.

The term "fulminate" means any chemical compound or mechanical mixture, whether included in the foregoing classes or not, which, from its great susceptibility to detonation, is suitable for employment in percussion caps or any other appliances for developing detonation, or which, from its extreme sensibility to explosion, and from its great instability (that is to say, readiness to undergo decomposition from very slight exciting causes), is especially dangerous.

This class consists of two divisions.

Division 1 comprises such compounds as the fulminates of silver and of mercury, and preparations of these substances, such as are used in percussion caps, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with phosphorous, or certain descriptions of phosphorous compounds, with or without the addition of carbonaceous matter, and any preparation consisting of a mixture of a chlorate with sulphur, or with a sulphufet, with or without carbonaceous matter.

Division 2 comprises such substances as the chloride and the iodide of nitrogen, fulminating gold and silver, diazobenzol, and the nitrate of diazobenzol.

CLASS 6.—Ammunition Class.

The term "ammunition" means an explosive of any of the foregoing classes when, enclosed in any case or contrivance, or otherwise adapted or prepared so as to form a cartridge or charge for small arms, cannon, or any other weapon, or for blasting, or to form any safety or other fuze for blasting or for shells, or to form any tube for firing explosives or to form a percussion cap, a detonator, a fog signal, a shell, a torpedo, a war rocket, or other contrivance other than a firework.

The term "percussion cap" does not include a detonator.

The term "detonator" means a capsule or case which is of such strength and construction, and contains an explosive of the fulminate-explosive class in such quantity that the explosion of one capsule or case will communicate the explosion to other like capsules or cases.

The term "safety fuze" means a fuze for blasting which burns and does not explode, and which does not contain its own means of ignition, and which is of such strength and construction and contains an explosive in such quantity that the burning of such fuze will not communicate laterally with other like fuzes.

The expression "safety cartridges" means cartridges for small arms of which the case can be extracted from the small arm after firing, and which are so closed as to prevent any explosion in one cartridge being communicated to other cartridges.

The ammunition class has three divisions.

Division 1 comprises exclusively—

Safety cartridges.
Safety fuzes for blasting.
Railway fog signals.
Percussion caps.

Division 2 comprises any ammunition as before defined which does not contain its own means of ignition, and is not included in Division 1, such as—

Cartridges for small-arms, which are not safety cartridges,
Cartridges and charges for cannon, shells, mines, blasting, or other like purposes,
Shells and torpedoes containing any explosive,
Fuzes for blasting, which are not safety fuses,
Fuzes for shells,
Tubes for firing explosives,
War rockets,

which do not contain their own means of ignition.

Division 3 comprises any ammunition as before defined which contains its own means of ignition, and is not included in division 1, such as—

Detonators,
Cartridges for small-arms, which are not safety cartridges,
Fuzes for blasting, which are not safety fuses,
Fuzes for shells,
Tubes for firing explosives,

which do contain their own means of ignition.

By ammunition containing its own means of ignition is meant ammunition having an arrangement, whether attached to it or forming part of it, which is adapted to explode or fire the same by friction or percussion.

CLASS 7.—Firework Class.

The term "firework" comprisesfirework composition and manufactured fireworks.

Division 1.—The term "firework composition" means any chemical compound or mechanically mixed preparation of an explosive or inflammable nature which is used for the purpose of making manufactured fireworks, and is not included in the former classes of explosives, and also any coloured fire composition.

Division 2.—The term "manufactured firework" means any explosive of the foregoing classes and any firework composition, when such explosive or composition is enclosed in any case or contrivance, or is otherwise manufactured so as to form a squib, cracker, serpent, rocket (other than a war-rocket), maroon, star, lance, wheel, Chinese fire, Roman candle, or other article adapted for the production of pyrotechnic effects or pyrotechnic signals.

MANUFACTURE, POSSESSION, AND SALE.

(a) General Rules.

2. An explosive shall not be manufactured except under and in accordance with the conditions of a license to manufacture the explosive granted under these rules.

Nothing in this rule shall apply—

(c) Licensing of the manufacture of other explosives.

12. Licenses to manufacture explosives other than those referred to in rule 8 shall be granted by the Governor-General in Council on payment of such fees in such form for such term and subject to such conditions as the Governor-General in Council may in each case prescribe: provided that the Governor-General in Council shall, in the case of any such license, prescribe all the conditions which are hereinafter prescribed for licenses to possess an explosive of the same description and quantity as the manufacturing license is to cover.

13. If any person commits a breach of any condition subject to which a license under rule 12 is granted, he shall be punished with fine which may extend to three thousand rupees.

(d) Licensing of the possession of small quantities of other explosives.

14. Licenses for the possession at such places as shall be approved by the licensing officer of explosives other than those specified in rule 8 shall, if the explosive is not one of the 5th (fulminate) class, and if the quantity to be possessed at the same time does not exceed 60lbs., be granted in a presidency town and its suburbs by the Commissioner of Police, and elsewhere by the District Magistrate.

15. Every license granted under rule 14 shall be in Form D in the schedule hereto annexed, and shall be subject to the conditions prescribed therein. A fee of five rupees shall be paid for every such license.

(e) Licensing of the possession of explosives generally.

17. Licenses for the possession of explosives other than those which may be issued under rules 8 and 14 shall, if the explosive is not one of the 5th (fulminate) class, be granted by the Local Government in accordance with the following procedure:—

(1) The applicant shall submit to the District Magistrate, or, in a presidency town and its suburbs, to the Commissioner of Police, an application in writing accompanied by a plan (drawn to scale) of the place in which it is proposed to keep the explosive (herein referred to as the magazine) and the site thereof.

(2) The application shall specify such of the following matters as are applicable, namely—

(a) the boundaries of the land forming the site of the magazine, and either any belt of land surrounding the site which is to be kept clear, and the buildings and works from which it is to be kept clear, or the distances to be maintained between the magazine, or any part thereof, and other buildings and works;

(b) the situation, character, and construction of all the mounds, buildings, and works on or connected with the magazine, and the distances thereof from each other;

(c) the amount of explosive and of ingredients thereof wholly or partly mixed to be allowed at the same time within the boundaries of the magazine; and

(d) any especial terms which the applicant may propose by reason of any special circumstances arising from the locality, the situation, or construction of any buildings or works, or the nature of any process or otherwise.

(3) Upon receipt of the said application—

(a) The District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police, as the case may be, shall thereupon cause notice to be published of the application, and fix a date on which any persons shall be heard objecting to the establishment of a magazine on the proposed site who have not less than seven clear days before the day of hearing sent to the said District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police, and to the applicant notice of their intention to appear and object with their name, address, and calling, and a short statement of the grounds of their objection.

(f) On the completion of the enquiry, the District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police shall forward the application with his recommendation to the Local Government. The Local Government may thereupon either grant the license applied for either in accordance with the recommendation of the District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police, or with the addition of any additional restrictions and precautions as may be deemed proper, or the Local Government may refuse such license.

(g) If the Local Government grant a license, it shall forward the same to the District Magistrate or Commissioner of Police, who, when satisfied that the magazine is sufficiently completed according to the license to justify the use thereof, shall confirm the license; but until so confirmed the license shall not come into force.

28. A person licensed to possess an explosive shall not be required to take out a license for the manufacture of the explosive by reason that in a room or workshop in connection with the magazine, or place in which he is licensed to possess the explosive, he, by filling cartridges, making charges, drying, sifting, fitting or otherwise, adapts or prepares the explosive for the keeping of which he is licensed, for use, sale or otherwise : provided that he observes the following rules :—

(1) There shall not be in the workshop in which such filling, adaptation or preparation is carried on more than 50lb. of gunpowder, or in lieu of such gunpowder or of a less amount thereof, not so present, half that amount of other explosive.

32. All licenses, except licenses to manufacture an explosive under rule 12, or to possess explosive of the 5th (fulminate) class under rule 21, shall expire on the 31ts December of the year for which they are granted. Licenses granted under rules 12, 21 shall be current for the term therein specified. But the currency of a license may, unless the circumstances have so changed that the grant of a new license would either not be authorised under the Act and rules or is deemed objectionable by the licensing authorities, on application previous to its expiration, be renewed, on payment of the original fee.

33. When a license granted in accordance with these rules is lost, or accidentally destroyed, duplicate may be granted to the licensee, on payment of a fee of 8 annas.

34. Any person holding a license, or acting under a license, granted in accordance with these rules, shall be bound to produce the same when called upon to do so by any Magistrate or by any Police Officer in charge of a police-station, or by any Police Officer of higher rank.

35. All Magistrates or other authorities acting under these rules will perform their duties subject to the control of their executive superiors and of the Local Government.

36 Any authority empowered to grant a license under the foregoing rules may, if he thinks fit, direct by an order written on the license that it shall have the effect of a like license under the Indian Arms Act, 1878.

37. Any persons lawfully entitled under the Indian Arms Act, 1878, or the rules made thereunder, to possess any explosive coming under the head of ammunition as defined in that Act may possess, without license under these rules, any such explosive in reasonable quantities for his own private use.
